EAU CLAIRE, Wis., June 14.—Medical relief and supplies were rushed into the areas of western Wisconsin and southern Minnesota today where sporadic tornadoes last night struck at several points, taking a toll of five lives, injuring scores and exacting a property damage which may amount to a million dollars.

The most violent twister descended at Menominee, Wis., killed four persons and injured a dozen others, three perhaps fatally. Sweeping everything before it the violent wind smashed a wide path eastward as far as Eau Claire, Wis.

Killed in Home.

The dead at Menominee were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolbert, Mrs. Carl Kaiser and an unidentified man. The injured were Clarence Kaase, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Inverson, Raymond Wolbert, Mr. Kaiser, a Mrs. Payne.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Old Glory continues to flutter along the downtown streets and from scores and scores of homes today, despite the fact that G. A. R. hosts departed Friday. The Flag Day, recognized the nation over.

Boy Scouts no doubt will have activities at the benefit moushball exhibition at Taggart field on June 27. Headquarters informs it is making arrangements for the boys to participate.

Many of New Castle's churches will observe Children's Day with special programs tomorrow.

Auto dealers have adopted a new wrinkle in transporting machines from the factory. Pa New observed yesterday. Instead of driving them through or shipping them in freight cars, they are now loaded on an immense trailer behind a truck and shipped in this manner. One of these train loads, with eight cars aboard went through the city yesterday.

Mercer street hill, between Grant and Lincoln avenues, has again been oiled by the city, and is in a slippery condition. This is the second time this spring that the hill has been oiled.

Pa New observes that roses are now in full bloom and many beautiful yards are to be seen about the city.

The iron fence along Court street and alongside the court house steps has been painted a silver or aluminum color and all of which adds to the appearance of that street.

These Guppy fish are gaining popularity. They are tropical fish and when full grown are about a half inch in length. Pa New notices that they are taking the place of gold fish in quite a number of homes.

An East Washington street man certainly knows his sparrows! Every day, this gentleman goes into his back yard with bread crumbs in his hand. Then he whistles and behold,

Trapped Miners Talk Of Approaching Death; Both Die Of Injuries

(International News Service)
DUBOIS, Pa., June 14.—His body mangled and his mind a daze after a night of horror lying beside a dead comrade following a rock fall in number 31 mine of the Shawmut Mining Company, Henry Klaiber, 17-year-old miner, died in Dubois hospital early today.

"We were crushed under tons of rock in the mine," Klaiber said. "We shouted and called for help but no body heard us."

"In between our calls, we talked of what would happen to us. We knew we were going to die."

"We could hear other miners passing nearby. A motorman even delivered cars to our room. We shouted again but, because we were always joking, the other fellows didn't know we were calling for help."

McDaniels suffered a head injury, a fractured skull, when the tons of rock cascaded into the subterranean chamber, Klaiber said.

"Three or four hours later, he told me he was getting cold. A little while later he said, 'Well, buddy, I'm going—Goodbye.' After that he was quiet. 'I thought I would go too before you got me.'"

He "went" a few moments later. Both men were entrapped by the rock fall for more than four hours before their failure to return from the room was noted and they were found by a rescue party.

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 14.—Investigation of the gang murder of Alfred J. Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, continued today with police still waging their campaign of wholesale arrests among hoodlums, vagrants and suspected gunmen.

Although the number of persons jailed thus far in the drive against gangland exceeded 1,200 today only 324 men were still being held.

Public wrath over the apparent gang rule as shown in the slaying of Lingle continued strong today. Demands for an investigation of the police department continued with the Chicago Church Federation considering plans for a mass meeting for the purpose of organizing a war against gang domination.

Police continued to conduct their investigation of the Lingle murder in secret, declining to disclose what progress had been made in tracing the

WIDOW AND THREE DAUGHTERS SURVIVE

(International News Service)
LEIGHTON, Pa., June 14.—Brooding over his imprisonment in the jail here on an intoxication charge brought by his wife, Adma Skochek, 52 of Palmerton, near here, shot and killed his 16 year old son, Joseph, then took his own life at their home early today.

Skochek crept upon the porch of his home this morning after a night spent in brooding over his incarceration and seeing his only son sitting inside of the dwelling fired at him through the screen door with a shotgun. The shot struck young Skochek in the neck killing him almost instantly. Skochek then entered the room and fired a double charge into his own brain almost severing his head from his body.

The slayer, police said, drank continuously and finally was arrested a few days ago upon the complaint of the wife. He was held in the local jail here for three days, being discharged yesterday.

He is survived by his widow and three daughters.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Determined to relieve the nation of the depressing uncertainty of tariff legislation, the house today prepared to pass the "billion" dollar Hawley-Smoot tariff bill and lay it on President Hoover's doorstep Monday morning for approval or veto.

Taking no chances with a possible filibuster or delay through technicalities, Republican rulers of the house drafted an iron-clad rule which assured a final vote before sunset.

The vote will come upon adoption of the unified conference report, which was accepted by the senate by a 44 to 42 vote yesterday. The house majority was expected to be about 85, with some Western Republicans deserting the administration and some Southern Democrats voting for the bill.

Hoover Will Sign
President Hoover, it was said by administration leaders, will sign the bill, after referring it to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who administers the tariff law, and receiving a favorable report. The chief executive is expected to make some reservations and resort to his flexible tariff powers to adjust it.

A final assault upon the bill was planned by the Democrats, under the

ROSE AVENUE SITE ADDED FOR SEASON

Tennis Courts Being Constructed At George Washington Field

Municipal playgrounds will open formally at nine o'clock, Monday morning according to Nicholas Casillo, who will be in charge of the grounds this year. Appropriate ceremonies will be held at the various places where children will be able to play in safety this summer.

For the past week a crew of men has been dividing time between the playgrounds and the new tennis courts being elected on the George Washington Junior high school, and have about completed the erection of equipment.

Rose Avenue playground for smaller children is the latest addition to the list of city owned playgrounds. It is the intention of the instructor to emphasize the instruction of industrial arts and the construction of group games. Only one piece of equipment will thus far be erected at the ground, but the nature of the grounds enables it to handle up to twenty-five children at one time. It will be under the supervision of Miss Helen Lyle.

Other playgrounds and their supervisors follow: Arthur McGill, Miss Elizabeth Glover; West Side, Miss Louise Davies; Gaston Park, the Misses Margaret Tucker and Clare Mae Lindsay; Ben Franklin, Miss Mildred Sargent; Croton, Miss Battley. The supervision of arts and crafts will be under Miss Elizabeth Mackey. This branch of playground work will be stressed more than ever.

Judges Declare Perforation Of Ballots Legal

Five Luzerne County Judges Give Decision That Puts Pinchot In As Nominee

NO MUTILATION SCHEME SHOWN

Brown's Supporters Lose Battle To Have Votes Thrown Out For Violation

(International News Service)
WILKES-BARRE, Pa., June 14.—Certification by the county commissioners of the election returns of Luzerne county for the May 20 primary was expected today or Monday, following the decision of the court en banc, handed down late yesterday afternoon declaring that perforation of the ballots was not mutilation or other violation of the primary election act.

The decision of the court marks another step in the legal battle which has waged over the Luzerne vote ever since election. Charges were brought by attorneys for Francis Shunk Brown, apparently defeated Republican gubernatorial nominee, that perforation of the ballots used in 374 precincts of the county invalidated them. They took to the court specific charges against the ballots in the eighth ward, second precinct, of Wilkes-Barre city.

Pinchot Wins
Should they have been successful in having the vote thrown out, the Republican nomination would be lost by Gifford Pinchot to Brown, for without the unofficial majority of 26,000 in Luzerne county, Pinchot trailed Brown by 6,496 votes.

The court, stating that a majority of the five judges concurred, but re-

BOSTON, June 14.—Everybody says "Why don't we get more fine high-typed men in the senate?"

Well, New Jersey goes on national exhibition. I saw with my own eyes in Mexico the way Morrow pulled us out of a terrific situation by replacing politics with national honor and diplomacy with common sense.

I honestly believe he is the most competent man I ever met, and awfully human. Few states ever have such a chance. If New Jersey turns him down, they just revert back to their usual oblivion. Any man to run again, him would have to have more egotism than state pride.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The tariff bill virtually out of the way, passed by the Senate yesterday 44-42, administration leaders on Capitol Hill today planned the prompt enactment of the great rivers and harbors bill, passage of the American Legion's World War pension bill and the adjournment of congress by the end of this month.

The success of this program depended entirely on the senate's speed in passing the rivers and harbors bill, which authorized wayward projects in various parts of the state.

New Jersey Will Vote Next Tuesday

Three Cornered Battle For Senatorial Nomination Is Nearing Climax

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, N. Y., June 14.—New Jersey's three-starred, triple-x senatorial primary moved into the final stages today with the trio of republican candidates, Dwight W. Morrow, Franklin Fort, and Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, putting in busy last-minute ticks in various parts of the state.

With characteristic directness, Ambassador Morrow carried his opposition to prohibition straight into the heart of dry Jersey. The politically arid counties of the south, were Fort's supporters claim the territory as their own.

Fort interrupted his invasion of the populous wet counties of the North long enough to dash to Washington to keep his republican record straight by voting for the tariff bill in the house, while Frelinghuysen continued hammering both his opponents in crowded Essex.

It is indicative of the tensely and feeling in this spectacular primary that the candidates will not close their campaigns tonight, as is the usual procedure. All of them are going to campaign right up to the last minute, which is Tuesday, almost a half million Jerseyites will then render the verdict, and it will be an important one, both state and nationally.

Suspect Admits Ellwood Hold-up At Gas Co. Office

Implicates New Castle Youth In Robbery On Wednesday Evening

PART OF MONEY TAKEN IS RETURNED

Auto Proves Undoing Of Youth In Bold Daylight Robbery

In a signed and witnessed confession, made before County Detective H. Martin Lee and Chief of Police Morrison of Ellwood City, and local State Police, Elmer Blair, age 35, of the Wurtemburg-Ellwood road confesses to the holdup of the Ellwood City Gas office on Wednesday, June 11, and implicates James Reed of Addis street New Castle, the county detective announces.

Both Blair and Reed are in the Ellwood City jail, and although Reed has been identified by Blair and by Miss Charlotte Connors of the gas office, he denies any participation in the crime.

In the confession Blair says that on Wednesday morning he came to New Castle and met James Reed in a restaurant on East Washington Street near Court Street. They got a pint of liquor and started for Ellwood City. Here they got more liquor and took several drinks. While under the influence of liquor (the confession says), they went down the alley near the Gas office and got out. Blair does not remember if he had his gun pulled or not but says Reed did.

"Keep Them Up!"
The confession here says that Blair does not remember just what happened except that he heard Reed saying "keep them up, keep them up" and that he (Blair) went through the cash drawers. Then they left the office and went out Fourth Street towards Frisco. Later they came back, went down Lawrence avenue and out the Wurtemburg road to a point on the Slippery Rock Creek, near

The house leaders decided to permit three hours of debate, in addition to limited debate on the rule, before a roll-call is taken.

The measure was expected to receive house approval, with Republicans declaring it will bring prosperity to the nation, and the Democrats charging it will aid only the privileged few of "big business."

The prediction of Sen. Watson of Indiana, Republican leader of the senate, that passage of the bill will bring "better times" in 30 days and prosperity within a year was endorsed by many house leaders.

Hell's Hollow. Here they divided the money but Blair did not remember if he got an even half or not.

Later Blair went to Koppel where he says he hid his money in a closet in the home of a man named in the Ellwood City but could not find his automobile. He went to the Ellwood police station, reported his auto lost and was arrested. The car answered the description of the car used in the hold-up.

Reed was picked up in New Castle by Officers Young and Kennedy.

Faced by Blair in the Ellwood City police station this morning at three o'clock Reed denied any implication in the crime and said to Blair "I don't know why you would blame me for this." He admits knowing Blair and Blair admits knowing him.

Three hundred forty dollars in cash was recovered from Blair and the Ellwood City police station.

Blair got the robbery amounted to nearly seven hundred dollars. No money has been taken from Reed as yet.

Sometimes several robins come along with the hearty little sparrows. This has been going on for several years and the sparrows all know what that whistle means.

Pa New noticed that the stones that will be used are being piled up near by and so the foundation work is evidently nearly finished.

Pa New notes that the new bridge on the road between Harlansburg and Plainville has been completed, and the highway route changed to meet it. The thoroughfare is now open for traffic, the route having been completed. The bridge is located near the place where the road leads to the Fred L. Rentz Y. M. C. A. camp leads off the main highway. It is a noticeable improvement as an old type one way bridge is replaced by a span wide enough for three or four cars to pass.

Oiling of streets has been carried on more extensively in New Castle this summer than ever before. The city in some sections will be dustless despite the fact that all of the streets are not paved.

Hay harvesting has been started in Lawrence county. Pa New noted last night that hay was being cut in a field along the Harlansburg road. It looked like a good crop to Pa New, although he does not pose as an expert.

STAR LORE THE MOST MASSIVE METEOR KNOWN

By Arthur D. V. Carpenter

That there was an enormous meteor in Grootfontein district, South West Africa, had been known for a long time, but it was never carefully investigated until March, 1929. It is a great block of metal rectangular in form, nine to ten feet, varying in thickness from two and one half to four feet. Its upper surface stands flat like a table. It is composed of 17.42 per cent nickel, and 81.29 per cent iron, and is as hard as the hardest steel. Just how much of a nose the meteor has buried deep in the ground is not known, but a rough estimate of the weight of the meteorite is 50 tons.

serving the right to file dissenting opinions, ruled the perforations did not conflict with "the statutory requirements as to form and contents of the official ballot."

Order Certification—The decision listed seven instances of "foul, fraud and corruption" in the second precinct, eighth ward, and refused "to accept the contents of this box as a verity," but did not consider the sufficient cause to throw out the ballots in all other districts and ordered the county commissioners to certify the election returns.

The next step to be taken by the Brown attorneys remains to be seen. The course of action open to them, it was said, is to appear before the county commissioners and ask that the vote in all districts using paper ballots (voting machines were used in Hazelton) be thrown out. The refusal of the county commissioners, unavoidable in the face of the court order, would have to be followed by an appeal to the county, making the matter an election contest. Should the court again refuse the petition, the case could be carried to the supreme court.

Fred L. Rentz and Burdell Sankey, son of Dr. B. E. Hankey of this city and a student at the Hahnemann Medical school at Philadelphia and other county physicians, not members, were also present as guests.

Dr. John Foster, chairman of the society's program and entertainment committee was in general charge of the banquet affair, assisted by Dr. H. E. Zerner, Dr. J. R. Cooper and Dr. C. E. Traub.

Dr. Bloodgood in his address said in part:

"Every member of the medical profession, whether in general or special practice, or whether connected with a hospital or clinic or not, must realize that what they learn in their medical school about the diagnosis and treatment of disease very quickly after graduation must be replaced by new methods which have been discovered, or verified, since they left the medical school."

"The fundamentals, that is, the medical sciences, anatomy, physiology, chemistry, histology, embryology, physiological chemistry and pathology, have undergone less changes than diagnosis and therapy in clinical medicine and surgery. There have been many more changes because of new discoveries in the past twenty-five years. There have really been fewer changes in fundamental surgery, that is in asepsis, antisepsis and the details of operative technique in the past twenty-five years, than in medicine."

"Methods of anesthesia have progressed markedly in drugs to relieve pain during the operation, but surgery as a great art, except in a few areas—brain, chest and urology, almost reached its limits almost a quarter of a century ago. But the examination necessary for that wonderfully conceived and executed surgical operation, has changed entirely."

"The success of treatments other than these by the medical profession has been due to the fact that when sick people wait until the disease can be recognized clinically without the aid of any of the newer methods of diagnosis, cures are rare if the disease is hopeless and, if the disease is not hopeless, the majority might get well without treatment."

"The success of all patent medicines and quick drugs and methods of treatment from the time of Hippocrates, Mesmer, Mrs. Eddy up to date, and the existence of cures for the cure of disease—all rest upon the fact that when the uninformed, ignorant individual, with and without fear or with and without mental deficiency, delays months or years after the first symptom of warning, no method of treatment offers much and any method of treatment may get the credit of those who would get well without any treatment."

"It is remarkable, how long the medical profession waited before they realized that the cure of disease depended as much upon the education of the people as upon the education of themselves. This has been especially true in the past quarter of a century. In the years methods of diagnosis and treatment have been developed to such an extent that if the people seek advice the moment they are warned, no patent medicine can compete with modern medicine, and no individual not educated as members of the medical profession must be educated today, can compete with the modern trained doctor."

and five others. All required medical attention. All those dead were killed at the Wolbert home when the twister wrung it from its foundation.

Boats at Pine Point, north of Menomonee, were torn from the water and smashed against the trees on shore. The wind was preceded by a hail storm which, together with the wind, beat down crops and caused several losses.

Damage of $400,000.

Twelve persons were injured here when the twister terminated its path of destruction by demolishing buildings in the ninth ward. The total damage here was estimated at $400,000. The abandoned sawmill of the Dells Lumber company was demolished and a hotel roof was hurled against the Security State bank.

A portion of the same disturbance tore its way across southern Minnesota, wrecking farms and dwellings as it went. One man was killed and several were seriously injured by the skipping twisters.

Several communities have sent appeals for medical aid and supplies. Torn telegraph and telephone wires made communication with the stricken areas almost impossible and hindered relief work.

jects in forty states and surveys in every state. Its total authorization has been variously estimated at from $135,500,000 to $300,000,000.

Senate Must Stay

Until a day has been fixed for enactment of this bill, administration leaders will be unable to say when congress will adjourn. Although there will be a decided exodus of senators and representatives for their homes in the wake of the tariff's enactment, administration spokesmen felt satisfied congress would not be willing to quit so long as the waterway bill remained unpassed.

The adjournment actually will affect only the house, releasing its membership for the summer campaigns. The senate will remain in Washington, since president Hoover is determined on ratification of the London Naval treaty at a special session, immediately after adjournment of the regular session.

Filibuster Looms

One grave dispute was involved in consideration of the rivers and harbors bill. Senators from the lake states were fighting to limit the diversion of water necessary to operate the proposed Illinois waterway, out of Chicago. This dispute may lead to a filibuster against the bill by the upper-lake senators.

Otherwise the bill seemed to meet widespread approval, because of the numerous projects, affecting nearly every state.

Some of the more important projects included:

Federal operation of the Erie and Oswego canals in New York State at an annual cost of $2,500,000.

Clearing the great lakes connecting channels, $29,266,400.

Improvement of the Allegheny River in Pennsylvania $3,615,000.

The magnitude of the projects insured widespread support of the bill. It should pass in a day or two if it were not for the dispute over diversion of water at Chicago. The upper lake states have insisted that diversion be limited to the 1500 cubic feet per second, allowed in the supreme court's recent decision affecting the Chicago drainage system. The Illinois interests demand all the water necessary to operate the project.

There will be no such trouble with the pension bill. The latter measure has sufficient support to insure its passage, even though it contains several provisions condemned by President Hoover in his veto of a similar Spanish War pension bill.

WILSON AND LADU WEDDING NUPTIALS

The wedding of Miss Catherine Rebecca Wilson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Egbert J. Wilson and Milan S. Ladu son of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Ladu of Jefferson, Ohio at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvine A. Ralph of Wallace Avenue, this afternoon was one of the prettiest weddings of the summer season.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 1 o'clock before an assembly of thirty-five guests in a setting of decorative beauty into which the rarest of flowers and foliage entered. The Dr. C. J. Williamson of the Highland United Presbyterian church officiated.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of point de esprit and lace over white satin, made with long full skirt and uneven hemline, carried an arm bouquet of flowers in dresden colors. The bridesmaid, little Lois Katherine Ralph, her only attendant carried a basket of flowers of pastel hues. The bridegroom entered the living room to strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Miss Katherine E. Wilson of Cleveland, Ohio, aunt of the bride.

Following the congratulatory period a wedding dinner was served in the dining room, places marking for 12 guests at the brides table. A large wedding cake guarded by four crystal holders containing tall pink tapers formed the centerpiece. Numerous small tables perfectly arranged and carried out in the same appointments accompanied the remaining guests.

CAMPING SEASON

THIS is the open season for camping—a fact received with mixed emotions by many. There are the indifferent, for whom camping in any form holds no appeal. There are the envious who do their camping in their office or in the porch rocker on hot summer nights, and think longingly of cool streams and owls hooting in the moon-hiding hemlocks above. There are the professionals who travel lightly and go direct to the wilds to put into effect the pent-up dreams and carefully made plans of a long winter. There are the adventurous, whose inexperience is compensated by irrepressible enthusiasm. Finally, there are the blissfully ignorant, who, in response to the nomadic spirit that is the heritage of all befevered Americans, just go, following where the road leads them.

It is this last category of campers which has inspired most uneasiness in the guardians of the wilderness and in the old timers among the hunters, fishers and campers. The automobile has given them the widest possible range of activity, with the result that the wilderness is no more.

Those who go camping to get away from the crowd and to find solitude and quiet must strike deeper into the few remaining frontiers with each successive outdoor season. Even then they follow the flivver trail of cans, newspapers, cardboard boxes, cast-off tires and old camp fires. But the new camper is satisfied with things as he finds and leaves them, and he is by far in the majority.

OUR FLAG

Much has been said lately of the need of some great commanding purpose to stimulate and unify the thoughts of Americans. With the increase in blocs or factions there has been too much thinking in the terms of group interests and not enough in those of the country as a whole and the influence the nation ought to exert in world affairs. Out of the observance today of the 151st anniversary of the American Flag should come one of those great commanding purposes through a review of the lofty principles for which the emblem stands and drinking again at the fountain of its inspiration.

In the essays of school children on the Stars and Stripes it is emphasized that while our nation is the most powerful; standing for relief for the oppressed and opportunity for the lowly. There have been many instances in which our flag has meant all of that. But does it, in the exercise of our influence today, or lack of exercising of it, mean as much now for lofty idealism as in other times? A commanding purpose for Americans today should be to examine themselves anew in the light of the high principles and patriotism that have made the nation great and strive to make their deeds now and henceforth match the inspiring words spoken of the record of the country in other periods.

The American Flag Day Association, in its provision of programs for observance of the anniversary of the emblem and in its educational work generally on the subject, is rendering a service to the nation that is invaluable. As it inculcates patriotism into the young, it reminds adult Americans of their duty. It cannot be emphasized too much that the flag means only what devotion to the principles it represents makes it mean.

Let the Stars and Stripes be displayed generally by Americans today.

TALLEST IN U. S.—EIFFEL TOWER LOSES

For 41 years the Eiffel Tower in Paris has been a fly in the ointment of those Americans who found pleasure in claiming for their country the biggest and best in everything. There was no structure in the United States to tower above or even to equal in height Paris' famous steel pile.

That annoying fly is removed by the completion of the Chrysler building in New York. It is 78 stories and is 46 feet taller than the Eiffel Tower, which is short of 1,000 feet by 16 feet.

With this newest American achievement in architecture and construction the Old World has nothing to compare. The skyscrapers of American cities are to the European imagination but typical of the miraculous character with which nearly everything American is invested.

Influenced by structural methods in the United States, European cities have begun building tall buildings, but they are tall only by Old World standards where five stories is above the average. In this respect Europe is not gaining on us for every time she adds a story we add two.

Skyscrapers are a necessity in the American city, while in Europe they are merely whims of such megalomaniacs as Mussolini. Not until Europe carries on commerce on as a vast a scale as it is done here will she need 1000-foot high buildings.

CUBAN PRESIDENT SETS A PRECEDENT

President Machado of Cuba, in voluntarily cutting his salary in half in order that the government may keep within the amount of the budget, may have performed a patriotic act; but he is sure to win the unanimous disapproval of the grand army of officeholders everywhere. He ought to know that things of that kind are not done in well-organized political society.

It is the method that is sometimes employed in private business, but it is quite unusual in public place. Yet it is only fair to say that on the whole public officials are paid much less in proportion than is the custom with private corporations. There are scores of presidents of business concerns who receive a higher salary than is paid to the president of the United States. But it is well to keep in mind that the man who accepts public office is presumed to be making a sacrifice for the benefit of the general good. This is true in spite of the fact that many of them never look at it in that light.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

India is sort of proving the medical theory that salt causes high blood pressure.

What this country needs is 120,000,000 people all thinking it needs the same thing.

Quite a way down in the list of important charges against a political candidate nowadays is the allegation that he is "the tool of big interests," most of which have 60 or 80 thousand stockholders, including employees.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Messrs. Sharkey and Schmeling met Thursday night. About 85,000 citizens paid $1.-00.000 to see the fight. At least 40,000,000 American listened to the fight blow by blow, on the radio.

Gentlemen of the gangster type from Chicago gathered in by New York's police, were hurt when asked if they knew who killed the Tribune reporter. Certainly not. They came to see the fight, not to run from Chicago's shooting squads.

Mr. Sharkey took his part patriotically and wished you to know over his own signature that he was defending the honor of America "against a foreign invader." If the Kaiser, instead of Schmeling, had come it could not have been more serious.

Mr. Sharkey, whose real name is Cusack, is a Lithuanian, first American born generation, which shows how quickly patriotism sprouts.

Professional gamblers bet two to one on him, which should have meant victory for him, and preservation for our national honor. Much depended on Mr. Schmeling's Achilles tendon, which was seriously injured in a motor accident in Germany.

Mr. Schmeling had not been doing "road work" or rope skipping in his training. Sporting reporters accepted his explanations of this eccentricity, which avoided mention of the important tendon.

"Now is can be told." As it will not hurt gate receipts, of which part will be devoted to a useful fund for poor children.

Mr. Nelson Rockefeller, grandson of John D. Rockefeller, writes on "The Use of Leisure," in the Dartmouth Alumni Magazine. The article is well written, serious.

In time, the young man's problem will be "The Use of Money." His father and grandfather do not live extravagantly. They give away great deal, but compound interest is more powerful than the giving. With any sort of management the third generation of Rockefeller should have at least five billions of dollars. A large sum to use satisfactorily.

The Prince of Wales flew from England to Le Touquet for a game of golf on Sunday, and churchmen at Cardin wired him:

"Your royal highness should set a higher example to your future royal subjects by refraining from encouraging desecration of the Sabbath."

The Prince did not answer.

Perhaps he is asking the Archbishop of Canterbury whether the angels on Sunday or fold their wings on Saturday night to keep them folded until Monday morning.

Certain springs were once known to be holy and gathered profitable crowds, because they yielded not a drop of water on the Sabbath.

This has not happened lately, although it would still be easy to arrange a water supply that could be turned off.

A young American twin, Jenny of the Dolly Sisters, sat up all night in a gambling house at Le Touquet, playing baccarat.

And as the sun rose she went to bed with 2,000,000 francs winnings, about $80,000. At least, she and the press agent say so.

As the young lady retired to her virgin slumber the gambling owners called her blessed.

For their 2,000,000 francs, if really won, they will get 500,000,000 francs' worth of free advertising. Fools will crowd their tables and later Miss Dolly will return the $80,000 with interest.

FLAG DAY

What keeps Old Glory young
And radiant and fair?
Time stills the sagest tongue
Breaks strength at last with care.
Age bends the stoutest will
And stains all cheeks with tears.
But Freedom's banner still
Grows lovelier with the years.

Old men grow faint and weak,
Old buildings fall to dust.
Age renders all things weak.
The brightest sabres rust.
The charms of yesterday
Fade with the twine of pain
And swiftly pass away
No more to gleam again.

But as the years go by
Old Glory holds her place
A joy to every eye
And hope of every race
Despite time's stress and care
By young gleams in every fold,
Still beautiful and fair,
Never the flag grows old.

What keeps Old Glory there
Against Time's cruel toll,
Not screaming shells in air,
But something of the soul
While freedom's song are sung
By young men, following on,
Old Glory shall stay young
Long after we are gone.

Voice of Iowa Is Accepted As Potent Tariff Factor

Dickinson's Success In Republican Primary Interpreted As Significant Though Some Comment Turns Attention To November Election

National significance in the success of Representative L. J. Dickinson in the Republican U. S. Senatorial primaries in Iowa appear in many press comments. Farm support for President Hoover and for the pending tariff bill is believed by some to be indicated, though others would await the November elections for more accurate determination of the facts.

"The result appears to show," according to the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS, "that farmers of the Corn Belt want this tariff and that they have not been favorably impressed with the opposition which has been holding it up for so long in their name." The SIOUX FALLS DAILY ARGUS-LEADER feels that "it will not surprise the East to hear that Iowa does not consider the tariff a bit of atrocious blundering"; that "the East is vigorously opposed to the present tariff bill and its opposition is based upon the high schedules on foodstuffs." That paper continues "Before permitting ourselves to forget it entirely, we should be reminded that the present tariff contains the highest levies ever placed upon the importation of farm products. It also contains, however, some high industrial levies that are not desirable from an agricultural viewpoint. The bill, as a whole, is an inefficient piece of work and may produce international retaliation. Agriculture will be happy, of course, if it can be revised with the retention of the present schedules on foodstuffs. But if the question is thrown wide open, some of them may be lost in the shuffle."

Emphasizing the points that Representative Dickinson "defended the tariff bill" and that he was "a victor with a clear majority over the field of three opposing candidates," the LONG BEACH PRESS-TELEGRAM points out that "Governor Hammill, his chief competitor, vigorously attacked the national administration's efforts for agricultural relief and was especially critical of its tariff policies," and concludes that "the vote in Iowa may be accepted as forecasting Executive approval of the measure, unless unexpected changes are made."

"The real issue was Hoover, not the tariff," in the opinion of the JAMESVILLE GAZETTE. "The voters of Iowa, in selecting Dickinson, have said to the nation that they are not pleased with Brookhart and his shipping policy. They did not care to give the insurgent bloc another vote with Hammill, and they have therefore repudiated him by a great majority." Contrary to this view is that of the DAYTON DAILY NEWS, which declares that "the nomination of Dickinson means that a second Iowa Republican will vote with the insurgent bloc in place of a nominal Democrat. Steck, who, owing his seat to the Republican regulars, usually voted with them when there was any special need of his vote."

The Iowa primary, the South Dakota primary, and the general prospect in the West confirm the view that the States of the Corn Belt are firmly set in their insurgency," states The Daily News.

"Apparently the victory of Mr. Dickinson on a clear tariff issue against Governor Hammill, who denounced the bill," contends the SPRINGFIELD MASS. UNION, "has served to put a complete quietus on the Grundy boys. The whole political theory of the coalition was to form an anti-administration union between the South and the agricultural States west of the Mississippi. There is no question that had Governor Hammill won the nomination on his issue of opposition to the tariff bill it would have been hailed by Senator Harrison and other Democratic political spokesmen as a public revolt against the measure in the agricultural as well as industrial States."

Suggestion that "perhaps the biggest blunder that can be credited to Hammill was his attack on the tariff bill; his criticism of Dickinson for having voted for it," is made by the WATERLOO TRIBUNE, while the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW sees Governor Hammill as "lured on to political destruction" in "campaigning against the pending tariff bill."

"The importance of the verdict is questioned by the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL, with the statement: 'The farmers, who constitute the bulk of Iowa's population, may resent the action of a Republican Congress, but they do not carry their resentment to the polls. They may rebel against the injustice of a tariff law, but if it is a Republican tariff law they invariably stand by the Republican party when election day comes around.'"

"In this respect," adds the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD, "Iowa Republicanism is fairly typical of midwestern republicanism. A large part of it, every so often, rears up on its hind legs, screams defiance at its oppressors, roars its demands for justice, and occasionally elects a Brookhart. And with that it subsides into a state of peaceful resistance that is more peaceful than resistance. It takes what the party gives it, supports the ticket in November, and hopes that better crops will atone for falling prices and tariff extortion."

"It is obvious," in the judgment of the AKRON BEACON JOURNAL, "that in Iowa, at least, the Republican voters are satisfied with what Chairman Alexander Legge has done. The relief he has given is largely vocal, but such as it is, it has appealed to the favor of the people of the State."

"The choice of Dickinson," says the LOWELL EVENING LEADER, "can be interpreted as indicating a feeling that the interests of agriculture have not been neglected in the tariff measure." The TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL remarks that the successful candidate was "able to convince the farmers of his State that they will gain more than they lose by the Republican bill." The LEXINGTON LEADER states that "generally the people of the agrarian West have become convinced that higher rates are demanded by changed conditions."

Of Mr. Dickinson's position, the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS offers the opinion: "Less radical than Senator Brookhart, he is nevertheless the farmers' friend; and also of strong insurgent leanings; but broadly considered, the nomination may be labeled an Administration victory. And it was to have been expected that President Hoover's native State strongly would endorse him at the polls."

Assertion that the real test will come in November is made by the DAVENPORT DEMOCRAT and the CHARLESTON, W. Va., DAILY MAIL.

Antelope are protected the year around in Colorado, and when a herd of them came down from the snow covered ranges and got into 150 acres of unhusked corn on the farm of Jno. Lapp, near Fort Morgan, there wasn't much Lapp could do about it. If driven back into the mountains, he knew they would die of starvation, as all their feed was covered with deep snow, and had been for months. So Lapp just let them have the corn, and even supplied them with water. They ate more than 5,000 bushels of corn Lapp estimates. The State Game Warden has advised him to present a bill to the next legislature for his corn.

During the "last roundup" held in Dodge City it was learned that at one time Dodge City was known as the Buffalo City. The first industry of the town was provided by the buffalo. The Santa Fe records show that 165,741 buffalo hides were shipped from Dodge City in 1872. In 1873, 1,617,000 pounds of buffalo meat were shipped to eastern markets. Buffalo bones amounting to $2,500,000 were shipped from Kansas during the years from 1868 to 1880. R. M. Wright, author of the Cowboy Capital, was one of the largest shippers of western Kansas and helped to put Dodge City on the map as Buffalo City.

THE TOWN DOCTOR

"DOCTOR OF TOWNS" SAYS

THERE ARE TOWNS THAT ARE GETTING SOME WHERE. It has been my experience that the fellow who does the most crabbng about what his community should have and what the people should and should not do, is the very fellow who DOES the least.

Some people are always ready to come to the party, but they are scarce as hen's teeth until the show starts, and they are always the first ones to make excuses and leave just in time to get out of paying the fiddler.

This kind of people are always ready to TAKE but never want to PUT. If things go right they will take all the credit and shout to the world what a wonderful thing THEY did; but if things don't pan out one hundred per cent it's always the other fellow's fault. They would rather pull back than push forward, even though it takes more effort to pull than to push.

Sometimes you'll even find this kind of person in Chambers of Commerce and Lions clubs, but as a rule they are found sitting on the outside of the ball grounds waiting for a "doer" to knock a fly ball out of the lot so they can get a free ticket for carrying the ball back in. And when they get in, due to somebody else's effort, they are the first ones to give the home team the razzberry the first tough break they get.

Every community has a few such people, but some communities are full of them. They are the people George Ade referred to when he uttered the now famous saying, "about all that some towns need is a few first-class funerals." I have often thought that Mr. Ade surely had just gone through an attempt to induce some community to THINK about themselves and following through by DOING something for themselves, when he made this remark.

There are towns that are going places and getting somewhere. There ARE communities that have come to the realization that because their community has always been in existence, as far as the present generation is concerned, is no sign that it will continue to exist. Such communities can "take telling," and are doing just that. They are alive—they think, feel and act. They are the towns that are growing, where business is good and fast getting better.

The people in these communities are "sold" on their town and "sell" it to others, after getting it ready and suitable for sale; the merchants work together, go after and GET what they require. Everybody who amounts to anything belongs to an up-and-at-em organization which WORKS for the betterment of the community, and every one of these organizations works with and FOR all the others.

YOU know where YOU stand. You know where New Castle stands. I don't have to tell you, and you don't have to tell anyone else; for all anybody has to do to SEE where you and your community stands is to LOOK at it.

Thus, you may see a tender father gently catch his little child as it jumps from a height.

But, one of these days, the child may be seriously bumped.

Call money, used for stock speculations, cost only two and a half per cent today, and four or five hundred millions could not be lent. Sad for bankers, lately wallowing in 15 per cent call money.

Newspapers begin to print items under the heading "Today's Murder News" as they print "Today's Transactions on the Stock Market."

Killings in New York were quite active today, with knives and pistols. Chicago takes seriously the shooting of a newspaper reporter. But conviction is improbable.

The killer, probably was some youth in his teens, fortified with cocaine. Paid for the job. He did not know the name of the man he killed. Perhaps doesn't know it yet.

It is hard for detectives to work in the absence of any motive.

A speakeasy in W. 44th street near Broadway is aggressive.

First, four nicely dressed gentlemen pulled guns, held up the place and took all the money, incidentally robbing the customers present.

When they left bartenders and customers yelled for help. They got it. Policemen came and raided the place. You shouldn't yell if you run a speakeasy.

New York City clinics announce "free plastic surgery." If you don't like your face, the city will change it for you, if you have a good reason.

No beauty parlor business will be done, no face lifting to hide wrinkles.

The idea is to improve faces that interfere with securing employment. Deformed noses, "cauliflower" ears, torn lips, caved in cheek bones, that make faces repulsive, will be attended to.

Auto Dealers Get New Sales Ideas

Members Of National Auto Dealers Association Addresses Body At Meeting Friday

James A. Post of the National Used Car Market Report division of the National Auto Dealers Association, addressed members of the New Castle Auto Dealers Association at their meeting in the Elks Club Friday afternoon, following the weekly noon luncheon.

Mr. Post gave a talk on sales psychology, particularly in reference to used cars, which he stated, should be considered the same as new cars, in reference to their salability.

The meeting was presided over by A. C. McCoy, president of the association, and in addition to members, was also attended by the sales managers of the various auto concerns of the city, all of whom are affiliated with the association.

Librarian Wants City Directories

Last Year's City Directories Will Be Greatly Appreciated By Local Library

The director of the New York Public Library has written a letter to Miss Alice Sterling, librarian asking for a more recent edition of the city directory of New Castle. The latest edition in the New York library is for the year 1926-27.

Birmingham, Cleveland, New Haven, Newark and Pittsburgh libraries also wish to have New Castle city directories, and all will in exchange, send their own directories to the local library.

There is no way for the New Castle public library to send last year's directory to these cities unless New Castle citizens donate them, for that purpose.

Any individual or business firm who has a late directory will oblige the library by the gift. If you will call the library, a boy will be sent for the directory.

Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Drop in temperatures expected to center on 16 following storm wave centering on 12, will not be expected to carry temperatures far below normal nor to cause damagingly low temperatures in any area. There is but one period during balance of June, centering on 27, when any damage from frost or low temperatures is likely to occur; near 27, any damage from low temperatures is expected to be confined to the far northern part of Canadian provinces. Storm wave expected to cross continent during week centering on 20 will be of moderately severe intensity of force and move down into central transcontinental storm path; both storm force and precipitation during this period will be expected to be confined to small local areas and to a general storm wave covering the continent. Precipitation during period 7 to 19 will average below normal generally and a decrease from that expected during first and last days of month; during and following passage of storm wave centering on 20, a general increase in precipitation is expected; greatest increase in precipitation during last ten days of month expected in section 6, east half of 5, all of 7 and east half of 3 and 1, in the order as named.

During the average season, temperature extremes of summer months are held to a much smaller range than during winter months; much smaller range in south than in north. I will expect daily average temperatures during June, July and August to go to greater extremes over the entire continent than during the average season; no protracted periods of either hot or cold weather are expected, but periods of moderate length of unusually high and low temperatures will alternate, with high temperatures predominating. Greatest extremes of daily average temperatures during June will be expected as hot storm center of 29 gives way to cool storm center of 27; the period between these two storm centers will be very favorable to the formation of dangerous local storms.

During last three days of June, a tropical storm is expected to form in east part of Caribbean sea and move north-northwest toward our south Atlantic coast. It is now apparent that this storm will not be able to move far enough west to be pushed to the west side of Bermuda high and onto the mainland of North America, but will move to the east of center of Bermuda high and up the central Atlantic ocean. However, it will be well to watch conditions in West Indies, the breeding place of tropical storms that reach our southeast coast, during first week of July. The month of July is not what we would call a tropical storm month, most of these storms occurring within a month of the equinoxes, March 21 and September 21, when the lines of force from the sun strike the earth near the equator.

The services of the First Presbyterian church for Sunday, June 15 are as follows: Sunday school at 9:45 Community Bible class at 10 o'clock in the auditorium of the high school. Morning worship at 11 o'clock. Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m. Evening service at 8 o'clock. W. J. Engle, pastor.

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press
NEW YORK, June 14.—A newlywed driving his bride home from the church the other day was pinched for speeding. Instead of fining him five dollars, the magistrate told him to take the money and buy The Bride a hat.

"I'll do it," said the young man "if Your Honor will tip me off to any place in N'York where I can get her a hat for that money."

BY THESE SIGNS

There's a shop in town that carries the crinkiest and most unpleasant looking boots on earth. I've always thought they ought to hang out a sign "Shoes for Unpleasant People."

THE RISING GENERATION

Sophistication is the order of the day. New York kids have deserted "London Bridge" for contract bridge.

SKEPTIC

There's a book on the market called "Meddlers—Uplifting Moral Uplifters." If you're One Of Us, you owe it to yourself to get a copy. The author H. I. Brock, a metropolitan newspaper man, has done a good job. The book is a little while. He is frank in lots of things that therefore may have been a trifle nebulous. Certain manifestations of democracy that now seem strange, peculiar, weird, singular and freakish will be made plain after you've held hands with Brother Brock for a little while. He is frankly skeptical about many of the gilded orthodoxies, and, like The Specialist, he "tells you why." There's need for this book.

ACCENT

Longacre Lil tells me she has an infallible method of spotting "The Out-of-Town-Man-About-Town." Invariably he refers to it as "Broadway," while the native New Yorker, without exception, accents the last syllable—"Broad-WAY."

AFTERMATH

The "Garrick Gaities" Mazda Lane's latest revue, pays its respects to Grover (Gardonia) Whalen, who recently quit command of the Police Department to resume the duties of department store executive. The words of the song go like this:

I used to be commander of the cops
And my lightest word made criminals afraid,
But my radiance is wasted now on shoppers
And my genius I am squandering on trade.
This hand that handles corsets and pajamas
Is the hand that held the hand of Queen Marie.

But I'm back among the drapers
Just because the daily papers
Hadden't room enough for Jimmy and for me.

And the second verse:
I used to be the mightiest of the mighties,
Civic uplift considered my career
Now I spend my time selecting ladies' nighties.

And "uplift" is the name of a brassiere.
To the public once I gave my store of knowledge:
Now I'm giving them my knowledge of a store.

The limelight now is Jimmy's
While I'm selling shirts and slimmers.
And I confess it's somewhat of a bore.

The late "Gardenia of the Law" is said to be very much peeved over the song, but "no comment" is as yet his sole repercussion.

UNIVERSAL

O Henry died in New York 29 years ago this month. His passing prompted reams of critical approval and raised the question: "How was it that the romance of New York should have been so well caught by one who until almost middle age, has not known New York?"

Long before his demise The Old Master had anticipated the question. "They say I know New York very well," he wrote. "Just change Twenty-third street in one of my New York stories to Main Street; rub out the Platoron Building and insert Town Hall and the story will fit any up-State town just as well. So long as a story is true to human nature, all you need to do to fit any town is to change the local color. You can make all the characters of the Arabian Nights parade up and down Broadway."

That's the philosophy back of "Bagdad on the Subway."

Local Residents Who Have Not Been Counted Can Still Have Opportunity

Government Requests Check Of Additional Figures, Delaying Final Returns

Census Supervisor Orville Brown is still checking the lists here, prior to making the final census reports to the Bureau of the Census in Washington.

Only a few days ago, orders were received to total the count of radios owned by Lawrence County residents, and this work has delayed the making of the final return.

Local residents who feel they have not been counted, may still have an opportunity of being enumerated, by calling 926.

It is expected to complete the work of checking the lists during the next few days, after which the portfolios will be sent in to Washington, and the figures released here for publication.

Rev. Mrs. Joshua To Preach Sunday

Will Occupy The Pulpit Of Her Husband's Former Charge In City

Rev. Mrs. Margaret Joshua, wife of Rev. Clifford S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton Methodist Episcopal church, will occupy the pulpit of the Emmanuel Baptist church Sunday evening at the service, which starts at 7:30 o'clock.

Rev. Mrs. Joshua is a speaker of rare ability and will deliver one of her outstanding sermons on Sunday evening. Her presence in the pulpit of the church is expected to interest a congregation that will fill the church auditorium.

During the service, Mrs. R. T. Morris and Mrs. William P. Vogan, two of the city's best known sopranos, will render two selections. There will also be other special music by the choir under the direction of David E. Hopkins.

Prayer In Congress

The chaplain, Rev. ZeBarney T. Phillips, D. D., offered the following prayer:

A Almighty God, Thou ruler of the nations, who hast called us to share with Thee in the order and government of the world, bring us now through quiet prayer into the spirit from which shall flow some streams of service for the Nation's weal as light streams from the stars. Pardon our shortcomings, our instability of purpose, our proneness to decline from vivid aspiration to the dullness of content, and grant us such clear-mindedness, such passion for the reign of righteousness that what we greatly think we shall ever nobly dare. And when we talk with our past hours in spirit walks of days deceased speak Thou with us, that we may know that life is long which answers life's great end. All of which we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

IT'S WISE TO CHOOSE A SIX

reasons why it's wise to choose a "SIX"

1. It's Smooth! For the new Chevrolet has a 50-horsepower valve-in-head engine with six cylinders! And a Six is, above all things, smooth! In low gear or high—the power flows with a smoothness and silence that are impossible with anything less than six cylinders.

2. It's Comfortable! Four long semi-elliptic springs; four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers; big, roomy Fisher bodies; and Chevrolet's six-cylinder power-flow, with its freedom from annoying vibration—all add to Chevrolet riding comfort.

3. It's Easy to Drive! Chevrolet's improved ball bearing steering mechanism operates without apparent effort. The clutch and four-wheel brakes respond to the slightest pressure. And six-cylinder design means less gear-shifting—easier control.

4. It's Beautiful! Chevrolet is the only car so low in price with the distinction of Body by Fisher. Hence, Chevrolet style compares favorably with that of costly cars. The lines are smart, clean-cut and modern. And no other car in the low-price field offers such luxurious interiors.

5. It's Economical! No other car gives any better gas, oil or tire mileage than the new Chevrolet. Six-cylinder smoothness holds down maintenance costs by protecting the car from destructive vibration. And Chevrolet flat-rate service charges on many operations are the lowest in the industry.

6. It's Easy to Buy! The G. M. A. C. payment plan, with its small down payment and easy terms, is available to every Chevrolet buyer. Come in! Confirm the many reasons why it's wise to choose a Six in the low-price field.

Send Letters With Treasure Chests

West Side Pupil Asks Little Filipino To Write To Him

When the friendship treasure chests were packed at the Y. W. C. A. the other day, to be sent to the children of the Philippines as a peace project, a number of tin soldiers and cannons and toy pistols were found among the gifts. Needless to say, these friendship tokens were removed from the chests.

There were some mighty cute letters sent along with those chests. The letters were from New Castle school children to the children of the Philippines. Herbert Owey, a nine-year-old lad of the West Side school, asked the receiver of his school's chest to write to him and tell him how he liked the treasure chest. Ruth Wester, also a West Side student, added a trifle.

this in her postscript: "There are some things in the chest for your little brothers and sisters, too." Thirty-two chests will be sent from the New Castle schools. United States will send some 30,000 chests in all.

Sunday evening he will speak on "Saul, the Pioneer King" and he will emphasize the fact of Saul's being a trifle.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Never Coax Child To Eat

Wise mothers try to find out from reliable sources what to feed their growing child and how to prepare and diversify his foods so as to make them most appetizing. She keeps in constant touch with her doctor for guidance in relation to the child's peculiar needs.

When what I say conflicts with what he advises, follow him. He ought to know your child better than I can. He is an expert on the health of individuals.

But the very time you need him he may not be there, and on the very things with which you have greatest problems he never may have counsel. Next time you see him, don't leave or let him go away until he has shown you, step by step how to proceed in cultivating in the child a healthy appetite.

In the meantime here are some suggestions which he may have taken for granted and which may not conflict with the feeding program which he has in mind:

In introducing solid foods to the very young infant, proceed very, very gradually. Solid foods seem strange to him whose mouth had been accustomed merely to milk. Put a bit of carrot mash into his mouth and he may be surprised and spit it out. He may tightly close his lips and jaws against another morsel. It may be better to dissolve a little of the carrot mash in milk, just to touch the baby's lips with a spoon which has been bathed in carrot broth, to effect a gradual adaptation.

When the solid vegetable mash is first introduced let the portion be a very small, one, no bigger than a pea. That amount may be enough for the first meal of vegetables. If it is gradually increased over a period of a week until a portion about the size of half a teaspoonful has been accepted by the child, great progress has been made.

The moment the infant turns his head away or shows he care no more for a particular food, take it away.

Serve one food at a time, the one most needed first, and in small portions. "A clean platter and an empty glass" is a helpful slogan. If this food is refused, let no other one be substituted at that time. Let the meal end until the next regular feeding period.

Within the range of food prescribed, make as great variety as possible. Employ no force and never coax the child to eat. Don't distract him so as to slip food into his mouth when he is off guard. Show no concern about his eating. You need not use your lips and tongue in feeding him. Keep them still. The baby's are enough.

All others present ought to act as if they were not there. Let them mind their own business, saying not a word about food or eating.

Let the baby feed himself as soon as possible, using his bare hands long before he can use a spoon, and when he does eat with a spoon armor him against being drowned and let him go to it, even if some of the food gets into his ears.

Biennial Examinations Given All Who Help Operate Company's Trains

Employees of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad in the New Castle district underwent their biennial sight and hearing examination during the visit of the company's special color car at New Castle junction and the uptown section, Friday.

It is a requirement of the company that all telegraph operators, trainmen, conductors, engineers, firemen and others who have a part in the actual operation of trains be examined regularly. Office clerks are exempted under the rule.

A provision of the railroad's regulations is that all employees who require the aid of glasses for distant vision must wear them at all times when on duty and must carry a duplicate pair for use in case of emergency. They are examined with each pair.

Peter's Adventures

THE FRIENDLY EYE WITNESS

"Dear Wary-Wing, do please forgive me," pleaded the boy. "You are right. Something dreadful has happened. Your sister is dead."

"And who killed her?" demanded Wary-Wing, glaring at Peter. "Are you responsible for the cruel deed?"

"I am afraid I am," acknowledged the boy sadly. "I—I hit her."

"You hit her?" screamed the now thoroughly infuriated insect. "You wicked creature! How dare you! You shall pay well for this!" Peter put up his hands before his face as she came rushing at him.

"Here, now, Wary-Wing, hold on a moment!" cried Brown Beetle, suddenly. "Don't be so hasty in judging the boy until you have heard his side of the story. Since you don't seem to be giving him a chance to tell himself listen to what I have to say. I was an eye-witness of the whole thing."

"Oh, is that you, Brown Beetle?" asked the Gray Gnat, wheeling about and looking down at the unexpected speaker. "I have always admired you greatly—although to be sure I know some that don't. But for my part I have always found you a truthful chap even if you are a ferocious one, and I am willing to hear what you have to say. Only be sure that you tell the truth. I am wild to think what has happened to my sister. Now that I have a human somewhere near my own size I am inclined to revenge my sister's death and all the trouble I have suffered at the hands of his race."

"That would be unfair, Wary-Wing."

"OH IS THAT YOU, BROWN BEETLE? ASKED THE GRAY GNAT, WHEELING ABOUT AND LOOKING DOWN AT THE UNEXPECTED SPEAKER."

"And if for no other reason than because Boy here came as a guest to visit the people of the field, forest and pool, and must be treated as such. And that is exactly the cause of the whole trouble. Your sister is a victim of her own folly."

The Capture Of Nassau

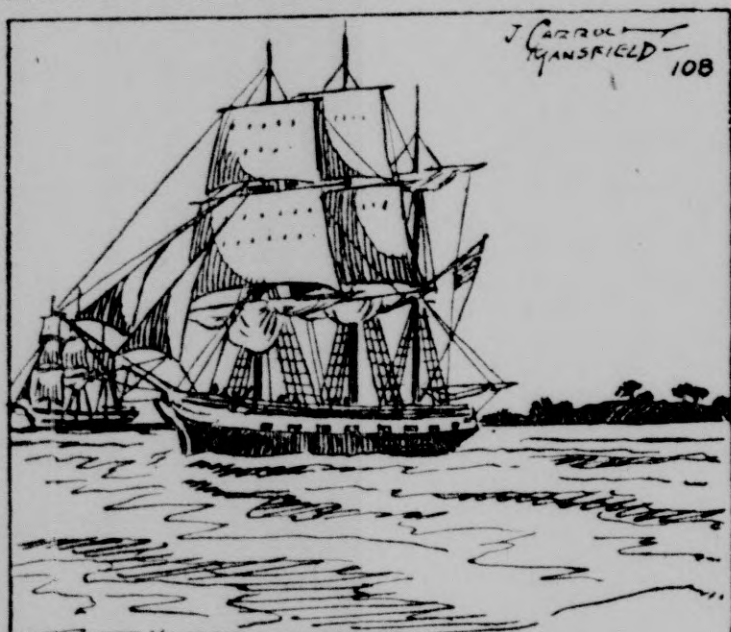

COMMODORE HOPKINS'S ATTACK ON NASSAU WAS A COMPLETE SUCCESS. WHILE THE AMERICAN SQUADRON SAILED INTO THE HARBOR, A FORCE OF MARINES, WHICH HAD BEEN LANDED 9 MILES WEST OF THE TOWN, ATTACKED THE FORT FROM THE REAR.

SEEING RESISTANCE WAS USELESS, THE BRITISH QUICKLY SURRENDERED. THE AMERICANS AT ONCE TOOK POSSESSION OF THE FORT AND THE TOWN, BUT RESPECTED PRIVATE PROPERTY.

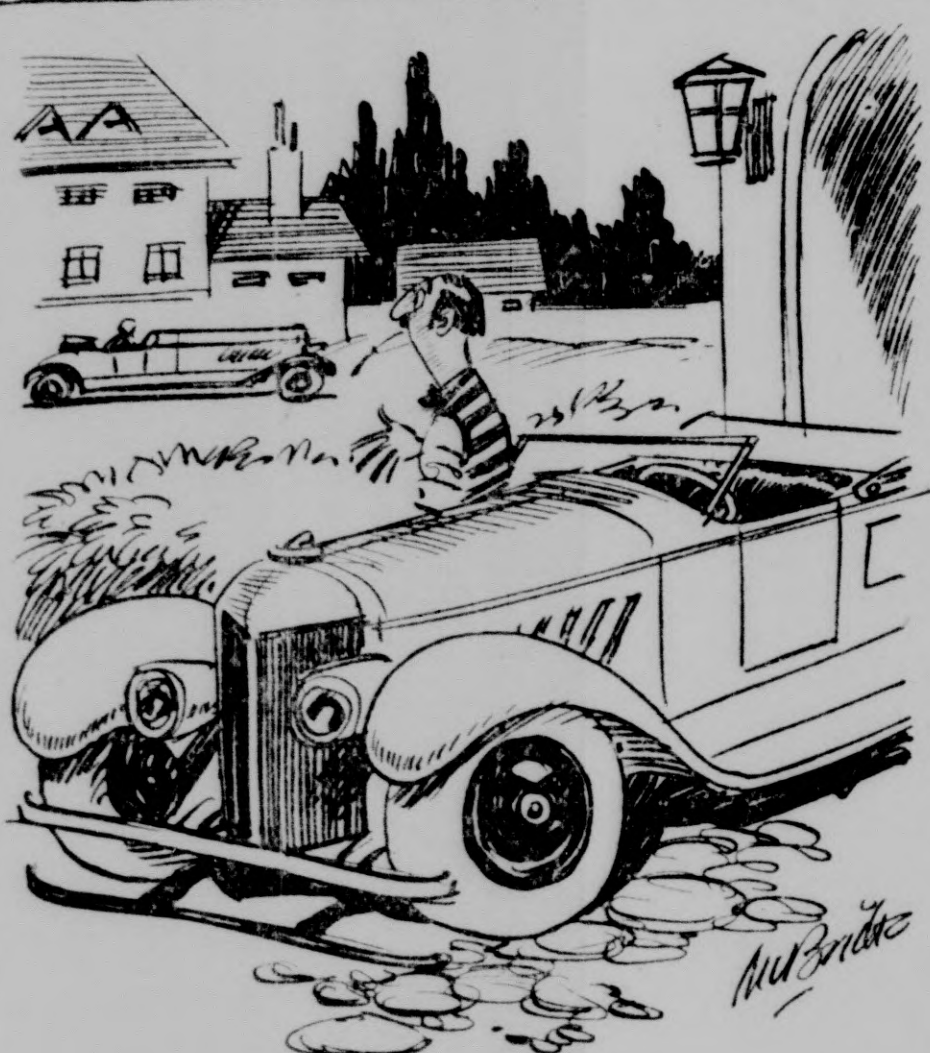

HOPKINS FOUND LARGE QUANTITIES OF AMMUNITION AND SUPPLIES AT NASSAU WHICH HE PROMPTLY TRANSFERRED TO HIS SHIPS. HE ALSO CARRIED AWAY THE GOVERNOR AND TWO ENGLISH OFFICERS AS PRISONERS.

HOPKINS HAD NO INTENTION OF OCCUPYING NEW PROVIDENCE FOR LONG. HIS ATTACK HAD BEEN MERELY A RAID, AND SOON HE SET SAIL WITH HIS FIVE SHIPS FOR RHODE ISLAND.

Muldoon Of Opinion That Sharkey Won

William Muldoon, New York
Boxing Commission Chairman Says Sharkey
Won Fight

Will Stick By His Guns And
May Read Max Schmeling Right Out Of His Title

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports
Editor.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Thirty-six hours after the first million-dollar fight in all the history of boxing had been committed, the jury was still out on this morning trying to reach a verdict on the question of whether Max Schmeling is to be awarded undisputed possession of the heavyweight title or undisputed possession of the air. It is a headstrong jury, in the opinion of William Muldoon. In fact, his story is that 11 very stubborn jurors are liable to try a man's patience out of all reason.

Anyhow, Mr. Muldoon seems to feel that he would be violating his best traditions if he ever agreed with anybody on anything, has decided that everybody was guilty of childish over-sight on Thursday evening. He thinks the wrong man won the prize fight.

He, therefore, has arranged to take a unanimous one-man vote on the matter and thus straighten everyone out. By the time he gets through doing this, Max Adolph Otto Siegfried Schmeling will have defended and probably lost the title he was awarded on a foul by Jack Sharkey in the fourth round the other night. In other words, it would seem that Mr. Muldoon has managed to over-match himself at last.

He can decree that men must stop smoking because he doesn't like smoking but he can't order them to stop thinking. For instance, did Schmeling lose the prize fight? He didn't. Did he win the prize fight? He did. Was the prize fight, by the arrangement of his own boxing commission, to be fought for the heavyweight championship? It was. This is second reader stuff. By following its continuity, you arrive at the inevitable conclusion that Schmeling is the heavyweight champion because he won the prize fight that was fought for the heavyweight championship.

Of course, Sharkey had no title to win or lose but, except for this point, the foul incident parallels others in which a championship title was involved. Willie Ritchie might never have been lightweight champion if he had refused to recognize his right to crumple under Wolgast's foul. What of the famous Nelson-Gans foul at Goldfield? Was that a championship fight or am I just naturally mistaken? Jackie Fields, the present welterweight champion, was fouled into his title by Dundee. These items in the bill of particulars, as a matter of fact, are too numerous to mention.

The New York commission does many strange things. It agrees to waive its own foul rules in the contract for this fight, thus inviting one and all to ignore these rules in the future. It allows Schmeling, supposed to be persona non grata, to dictate the terms of this particular clause because he claimed that Sharkey might simulate a foul from a punch in the body; yet it knew or should have known that Schmeling and body punching are as the poles apart.

You can continue to respect your friends if you will learn to say "no" when they need money.

THE GOLF BUG

William "Bill" Nunn, chairman of the Golf Committee of the New Castle Field Club today announced that the Field Club golfers, ten strong would invade the Beaver Valley Country Club on June 25, for a match with the ten best at the Valley course. The Valley golfers will probably play a return match here on July 16.

The local Field Club niblick swingers are anxiously looking forward to that match with the Valley. The course in the Valley is reported in very fine shape, and also the Field Club course here is one of the finest in this section of the state.

For the golfers playing the Municipal Course, the Golf Bug has been asked to say a few words to the boys who are new at the game. When playing in twosomes, threesomes or foursomes, never walk ahead of a man teeing off his ball. After you have hit your ball just stand back and wait until all in your party have driven, then it is proper to advance down the fairway.

If you will just obey the rules of golf, you can't go wrong. There is a lot to golf other than hitting the ball. There happens to be etiquette.

Remember a twosome has the right to pass through a foursome only on the following conditions—If the twosome is following the foursome and has been held up, two successive tees and the field is clear in front of the foursome, it is obligatory on the part of the players in the foursome to wave the twosome through.

That was a sweet little old match at the Muny Course the other night, when Ollie West and his Niblick outfit bested the Mashies captained by Ralph Davis, and did you notice those fine scores that were turned in. There will be a lot more matches played at the Muny Course.

The News Golfing team has been challenged by the Bell Telephone boys and The News golfers are out at the Municipal course daily getting in trim.

Sharkey-Schmeling Battle Receipts Set At $749,934

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 14.—Official figures on the financial return from the Sharkey-Schmeling fight showed a gross of $749,934, with a net, after the state tax has been deducted, of $711,668.

By contract Schmeling and Sharkey each get twenty-five per cent of the net gate, or $177,917 each.

The Yankee Stadium Corporation gets 10 per cent as rent for the park. The preliminary fighters and other expenses also represent a deduction.

From the fight itself the Milk Fund derived approximately $150,000. To this, in percentages from radio broadcasting, motion picture, programme and other concessions there is an increment estimated at $25,000.

The Milk Fund benefit, therefore gives the babies $155,000, with the possibility that this figure may be increased in the final reckoning by perhaps $5,000.

Joe Jacobs, Manager Of Max Schmeling Says New Champion Not To Fight For Year

SHARKEY GOES INTO SECLUSION

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 14.—Max Schmeling of Germany, newly crowned heavyweight champion of the world, will not defend his title until next June, his manager, Joe Jacobs, declared in an interview Friday afternoon. He said he would be pleased if Schmeling's opponent will be Jack Dempsey.

Schmeling, who was present in his suite at the Commodore when the interview was granted, delegated Jacobs to do most of the talking. The new champion, often referred to as the "German Dempsey," was in a happy mood, said he "felt fine" and that he experienced no ill effects from the alleged foul blow dealt by Jack Sharkey in the closing seconds of the fourth round of their dramatic battle in Yankee Stadium Thursday night.

Numerous offers, promising heavy financial returns, including an exhibition tour of Europe, will prevent Schmeling from fighting again before next summer, according to Jacobs. Sharkey, meanwhile, was in seclusion. He was said to be inconsolable over having blown the title when he had it within his grasp.

Arnold Favored To Win Grind At Altoona Today

Billy Arnold, Smiling Chicago Racer Favored To Take 200-Mile Classic Today

By LEO DOLAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

ALTOONA SPEEDWAY, ALTOONA, Pa., June 14.—All roads led to this huge wooden saucer today where sixteen knights of the roaring road, their motors droning a challenge to conquest, awaited the swish of the starter's flag to send them away on a 200-mile speed grind for more than $18,000 in prizes and international honors.

Thousands of racing fans were in the grandstand, gaily bedecked in bunting and flags, long before the scheduled start of the race at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Eastern Standard Time.

The stands themselves, in holiday dress, presented a strange contrast to the scenes in the pits where grimy mechanics and world famous drivers huddled together, adding last minute touches to their gasoline steeds.

Arnold Is Favorite

A buzz of interest, comment and conjecture swept through the stands when Billy Arnold, smiling Chicago youth whose victory at Indianapolis on Decoration Day sent him on the road to the championship of the American Automobile Association, appeared and began tinkering with his Miller-Hartz Special.

It was Billy fighting a lone fight against the field today—a fine striving to wrest the coveted award from this carefree youth. If Arnold takes the checkered flag ahead of the pursuing pack, he will have practically clinched the championship.

If he is kept to the rear of the pace, however, Billy's chances on annexing the title will be slim as there are less than 200 points difference between Arnold and Bill Cummings.

A field of internationally known speed demons, able and willing to try the mettle of the Indianapolis victor, was present today. There were for instance, "Shorty" Cantlon, who clung grimly through the dust of the Hoosier classic to take second place, headed off by Arnold; Deacon Litz, speed devil from Daytona Beach and "Babe" Stapp, who retired last season, only to be lured back to the game he loves again this year.

The speedway provides today, for the first time in its history, a battleground for the new two-man cars. New world records were looked for in today's grind since Altoona is conceded to be the fastest speedway in the world for competitive championship races.

Every one of these camps is well kept and beautiful. Hundreds of Girl Scouts attend the camps each summer to take leaders' training courses.

ADMITS KILLING
WIFE, GETS LIFE

Warren, Ohio, Man Pleads To Second Degree Murder
For Killing Wife

WARREN, O., June 14.—William Schmidt, who on March 3 shot and killed his wife Nellie at their home, on Friday pleaded guilty to second degree murder and was sentenced to the penitentiary for life by Common Pleas Judge W. M. Carter.

Schmidt was to have gone on trial on a first degree murder charge next Monday.

Just three weeks prior to the shooting, Schmidt's wife had filed a petition for divorce, alleging cruelty.
There are six children in the family,
three of them minors.

After the indictment on a first degree murder charge, Schmidt was sent to the Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane and kept under observation for several weeks. He was returned to the county jail here with the report that he is sane.

In choosing lampshades remember that the shade with a wide top will diffuse light generally. A lamp so equipped should be placed in that part of the room where the draperies and walls will be most effectively reflected.

Blaze In Mint, Firemen Barred

Fire In Philadelphia U. S. Mint Is Very Exclusive Affair

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 14—Even a blaze in the United States mint here—the government's money factory—failed to open the gates to curious spectators and excited firemen.

A small fire broke out in rubbish in the basement of the mint last night and firemen rushed to the scene with their wild ringing bells and screaming sirens only to be figuratively given the bum's rush when they tried to enter the closely guarded building. "Let us in," they demanded pounding on the gates. "Nothing doing" came the reply. "It's after 5 o'clock and we are not allowed to admit strangers. It's against the law."

The firemen tried other doors and entrances but met with the same results. The blaze was extinguished by mint employees. The damage was slight.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Leading Stock Issues Ease Off Moderately

By W. S. COUSINS

International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, June 14—Reactionary tendencies developed on the stock market today after a generally firm opening and leading issues eased off to moderately lower levels. A few stocks, however, slumped to record lows for the year.

Standard Industrials, such as United States Steel, American Can and General Electric were influenced by the selling elsewhere in the list and ruled moderately lower. U. S. Steel sold off to 163 1/4, a net decline of 1 1/4. American Can dipped 1 1/4 to 134 and General Electric fell 1 1/4 to 73 3/4.

The utility issues, after responding to a good over-night buying demand which caused early prices to move upward slightly, were unable to retain their position in view of the general weakness and were forced to a lower level. Consolidated Gas sold off 2 1/4 to 120; American and Foreign Power declined a point to 73 1/2; Columbia Gas and Electric was down 1 1/4 to 72 1/2 and North American dropped 1 1/4 to 109 1/2.

Amusement issues were again under pressure. Warner Brothers eased off 1 1/4 to 50 1/4. Radio-Keith was off 1/2 at 32 1/2 and Loews declined 2 1/4 at 74 1/2.

Oils, after displaying strength during the first hour, weakened in sympathy with the general tone of the market. Anaconda eased off 2 1/4 to 51. American Smelting 2 1/4 to 65 1/4 and Kennecott showed a loss of 3/4 to 42.

Other stocks to fall to new low ground for the year included Underwood, Elliott Fisher, St. Joseph Lead, S. Industrial Alcohol and U. S. Freight. Several Copper issues also slumped to new lows, notably Anaconda.

The weakness in the copper group was explained by the announcement of a further reduction in the price of the metal for domestic shipment, to 12 cents. Anaconda eased off 2 1/4 to 51. American Smelting 2 1/4 to 65 1/4 and Kennecott showed a loss of 3/4 to 42.

Mrs. Price Wins In Non-Support Case

In the case of W. A. H. Price, who was charged with desertion and non-support, before Judge Hildebrand, the jury returned a verdict of guilty. This case has been in the courts in one form or another for the past seven or eight years. Following a first charge of desertion and non-support. Price secured a divorce. The case was appealed and in the meantime he married again. When the higher court handed down a decree against the divorce, the second Mrs. Price had her marriage annulled, which left Price in the same position as when the original charge was made.

Railroad Police To Wage Campaign

Will Arrest Everybody Who "Hops Trains" On Their Property Here

Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh police have started a vigorous campaign to stop young boys from jumping on trains on their route between Moravia Street and Cascade Park. One young man, Joseph Janovick was captured by Lieutenant Baughman and fined $10 by Alderman Marshall. According to the lieutenant a young boy was killed in the vicinity last summer and as boys are now "hopping trains" they fear that they may be seriously hurt or killed. "We will arrest everybody that 'hops' a train and will try to see that they receive jail sentences instead of being allowed to pay fines. We must take a drastic step to save somebody's life," said Baughman.

Cannon's Case Will Go Before Senate As Whole

Senate Lobby Committee Decides That Bishop Cannon Must Face Senate

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 14.—The report of the senate lobby investigating committee on the refusal of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., to answer questions about his political and lobby activities, will probably be put before the senate on Monday. The committee has adopted a resolution passing the Cannon case to the full senate for a decision. Sen. Blaine (R) of Wis., however, insists the committee, by adopting the resolution, passed the case along to the vice president, who in turn must certify the record and send it to the United States district attorney for the District of Columbia. The district attorney, then, under section 104 of the revised statutes (Federal Contempt Law) must place the facts before the grand jury for a possible indictment of the witness for contempt of the senate. The Wisconsin senator contends the statute applying to the failure of a witness to testify before the congressional committee is very plain. This statute says in part:—"When a witness fails to testify and the facts are reported to either house, the president of the senate or the speaker of the house as the case may be shall certify the fact under the seal of the senate or the house, to the district attorney for the district of Columbia, whose duty it shall be to bring the matter before the grand jury for their action."

Jail Sentences Given To Pair

Actions Of Pair On North Cedar Street Result In Arrests

James Aiello and Robert Kerr are spending thirty and twenty-five days respectively in the county jail, as a result of their alleged actions early this morning in the vicinity of the Venice Restaurant on North Cedar street. Officer Cecil Suber arrived at the Venice Restaurant district about two o'clock this morning and a man named Theiss told him of having trouble with a fellow named Aiello. Theiss said Aiello might have a gun. The officer searched Aiello and not finding a gun told all the participants in the affair to go home. Officer Richards happened along a little later and saw Aiello and Kerr coming from Mahoning avenue on Cedar street. Knowing of the trouble the officer investigated and when the two men saw him they went toward some telephone poles. Richards investigated and found a knife beside the pole where Kerr had been and a revolver beside the pole where Aiello had been. It contained four loaded shells. As Officer Richards questioned Aiello, he broke away and ran toward the Pennsylvania tracks. The officer fired but Aiello kept on going. Officer Suber was notified and returned to the scene and went into the restaurant to make a report on the case. When he came out, Aiello had returned and was threatening Richards and then turned on Officer Suber, who knocked him out with his club. Aiello was fined $100 with the alternative of thirty days by the mayor and Kerr $25 with the alternative of twenty-five days by Mayor Gillespie and being unable to pay were sent to the county jail.

Charge Negriss With Stabbing

Victim Of Cutting Affray Is In Hospital, May Not Recover

Vernon Ferris, aged 38, negro, 134½ West Long avenue, is in a very critical condition at the Jameson Memorial hospital as a result of knife wounds near the heart and in the left shoulder, said to have been inflicted by Mildred Blue, Negriss, 517 South Mill street. His condition is such that his recovery is not expected. The cutting occurred at No. 10 Division street.

Mildred Blue, alleged assailant, is in the county jail, charged with felonious cutting with a knife with intent to kill, made by Chief of Police C. C. Horner before Alderman Green, pending the outcome of the wounds of Ferris. She admitted the cutting and turned over to Officer Bud Flegler, a paring knife with which she is alleged to have done the cutting, the police say. She claims that Ferris kicked and abused her before she did the cutting. The police are inclined to doubt that the knife turned in is the one that was used.

Ferris in a statement alleges that he and Mildred had an argument during which she stabbed him. He states that he had just returned from Youngstown with his wife.

Officer Carl Lockard was stopped shortly before two o'clock on the public square by Officers Algier and Wallace who told of a car going toward the hospital in which they believed a seriously injured person was being taken to that place.

The officers rushed to the hospital in the police car and found that Ferris had been terribly wounded. The hunt for Mildred Blue resulted and she was finally located and arrested by Officer Flegler at the scene of the stabbing.
